DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions that are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claims 1-7, 24-26, drawn to a screening method for substances for the treatment of Friedreich's Ataxia.

Group 2, claims 8-23, drawn to methods of use for compounds for the preparation of a treatment of Friedreich's Ataxia.

The inventions listed as Groups 1 and 2 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features (See § 1850 of the MPEP). The unifying feature of the claims of the instant application is treatment of Friedreich's Ataxia. The inventions of Group 1 have as a corresponding special technical feature "reduced glutathione" content of cells. The following reference teaches this feature in conjunction with patients with Friedreich's Ataxia (Piedmonte et al. Glutathione in blood of patients with Friedreich's ataxia. European Journal of Clinical Investigation 31(11):1007-1011. 2001), therefore, since this corresponding special technical feature does not contribute to novelty or an inventive step over the prior art, it fails to meet the unity of invention requirement under PCT Rule 13.1.

The inventions of Group 2 list one of the compounds for this purpose as selenium and the following reference teaches this use (Fryer. Rationale for clinical trials of selenium as an antioxidant for the treatment of the cardiomyopathy of Friedreich's ataxia. Medical Hypotheses 58(2):127-132. 2002). Therefore, since this particular technical feature does not make a contribution over the prior art it therefore lacks Unity of Invention.

Election of Species

2. This application contains claims (7-9, 11-17, and 20-22) directed to more than one species of the generic invention.

For Group I above, applicant must elect either of Idebenone or Ebselen.

For Group II above, applicant is required to elect, for claims 11-17, the chemical substituents A, X, and each of the R groups. Varying the substituent groups alters the chemical compound structurally, functionally and affects the mode of use in such a way as to make it patentably distinct. Furthermore, for claim 8, applicant must select from the group of selenium, Ebselen or GPX mimetics; and if GPX mimetics are elected a further selection is required from the list of claim 20.

Additional election of species is required for the compounds used in combination with the method of claim 8 (claims 21 and 22). For example, in claim 21 wherein it claims "use according to claim 8 wherein the seleno compound is combined with free radical scavengers and/or antioxidants ...and/or Vitamin E or derivatives thereof".

Art Unit: 1609

Applicant may elect one of these compounds. For examination purposes this list of species encompasses a scope of molecules or combination of molecules so vast as to lead to a significant burden in a search of the prior art. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1, therefore, specific molecules must be elected.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stacey MacFarlane whose telephone number is (571) 272-0235. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday 7:30-5:00 PM, ALT. Fridays, EST.
